

I am a full time flight attendant. I do not feel it is safe to allow cell phone service in the air. Passengers do not listen to safety instructions now, I can't imagine if they're on cell phones all during the flights. Passengers already get annoyed by people using cell phones on the ground, we have enough responsibilities and now we might have to police cell phone use in flight.

Not to mention the obvious and crucial reasons.

1. Will it interfere with navigational instruments?
2. Will it be easier for terrorist?
